The month gone by – A snapshot

Global markets rose in November, as easing inflation in the US raised hopes that the aggressive rate hike cycle by global central banks may be nearing an end. Although the US Fed raised policy rates by 75bps in November 2022, policymakers indicated that the pace of rate hikes is likely to be slower from hereon. The European Central Bank policymakers, however, indicated that rates will be raised further as inflation continues to remain in double digits.

China continues to face challenges in managing renewed outbreaks of Covid-19; however, some lockdowns are being eased amidst strong protests. The slowdown in economic activity in China has led to a decline in commodity prices, particularly crude oil, which declined by 10% in November.

The MSCI US index was up by 5% in November, while MSCI EM index was up by 15%. Indian equity markets underperformed EM peers with MSCI India up by 5%. Foreign Portfolio Investors infused US$3.6bn into Indian equities last month.

Indian economy continues steady recovery

India's Q2 FY2023 GDP grew by 6.3% y-y in line with RBI's estimate, with a strong recovery in the services sector. Strong RBI sowing trends, along with signs of moderating inflation, suggest that a turnaround in the rural sector may be in sight. The decline in commodity prices, including crude oil, indicates that input price pressures may be abating. High frequency indicators, such as traction in credit growth as well as PMI data, suggests a resilient domestic economy with sustained recovery in contact-intensive services.

Inflation moderates, bond yields decline in November

Domestic retail inflation eased to 6.8% in October from 7.4% in November. Food inflation eased last month and could moderate further in winter. Abatement of inflationary pressures has led to the hope that RBI may be nearing the end of its rate hiking cycle.

Outlook: Amidst signs of moderating inflation, developed market bond yields eased sharply in November, with 10-year US Treasury yield declining by 40bps. The fall in global bond yields supported lower domestic yields as well. The Indian 10-year bond yield eased by 15bps to 7.3% due to easing inflation and lower crude oil prices. Going forward, yields may trend lower with commodity prices, inflation trajectory and domestic liquidity being the key monitorables.

Equity markets buoyant, range bound movement likely

Nifty was up by 4.1% in November led by the return of FPI flows on expectations of a Fed pivot on rate hiking cycle. Metals, Information Technology, PSUs and Oil & Gas sectors outperformed benchmark indices. Banks performed in-line. Power sector underperformed.

Outlook: The global macro-economic environment remains challenging amidst historically high inflation in developed markets and policy tightening by central banks. At the same time, there are early signs that inflation may be abating allowing central banks room to decelerate and eventually pause the rate hike cycle.

The recent rally in Indian equity markets has been led by global risk on factors coupled with strong domestic demand momentum. Additionally, falling commodity prices augur well for domestic consumption and improving corporate profitability. In the near term, we expect markets to consolidate as the lagged impact of monetary tightening may weigh on growth in the calendar year ahead. We believe domestic focussed sectors are likely to fare better. We maintain a positive outlook on equity markets.
